*Extracts from the Speeches of Rev. Edward Payson, and G Griffin, Esq before the
"American," and "Maine Bible Societies."
From the Christian Orator.*

"By opening this VOLUME, we may, at any time, walk in the garden of Eden; sit in the ark with Noah; share the hospitality, or witness the faith of Abraham; ascend the mount of God with Moses; unite in the secret devotions of David; or listen to the eloquent and impassioned address of St. Paul. Nay, more, we may here converse with Him, who spake as never man spake; participate with the spirits of the just made perfect in the employments and happiness of heaven."

"Amazing Volume! In every one of thy pages, I see the impress of the Godhead. I reiterate the mighty term—THE BIBLE; that richest of man's treasures—that best of Heaven's gifts—that volume, conceived in the councils of eternal mercy, containing the wondrous story of redeeming love, blazing with the lustre of Jehovah's glory; that volume, pre-eminently calculated to soften the heart, sanctify the affections, and elevate the soul of man; to enkindle the poet's fire, and teach the philosopher wisdom; to consecrate the domestic relations; to pour the balm of heaven into the wounded heart; to cheer the dying hour, and shed the light of immortality upon the darkness of the tomb."

ADVERTISEMENT.

SEVERAL works of merit have been published, with a view to facilitate the study of the scriptures. They are, however, generally too expensive for gratuitous circulation in the Sabbath Schools. To furnish a cheap work for these invaluable institutions, the following pages have been composed. The questions on the gospel are not proposed from the Evangelists separately, as many of the same events are recorded by each; but, from the four united, a concise view is given of the birth, miracles, instructions, and death of the Saviour; to which are added, questions on some of the most important doctrines and precepts of the sacred word.

The book, being divided into 52 easy Lessons, may furnish families with a pleasing Sabbath exercise through the year, and excite in children a taste for studying the Bible, and form the habit of reflecting on what is read.

The passages of Scripture referred to, are designed to be recited, verbatim, as an answer to the questions; and thus early to imprint on the memory of children the language and sentiments of the sacred word.

* * * A colon separates the figure denoting the chapter, from those which refer to the verses. Thus, Gen. 2: 21, 22, directs to the 2nd chapter of Genesis, 21st and 22nd verses.

HYMN—THE BIBLE.

ETERNAL SPIRIT ! 'twas thy breath
The Oracles of Truth inspir'd ;
And kings and holy seers of old
With strong prophetic impulse fir'd.

Fill'd with thy great almighty pow'r,
Their lips with heav'nly science flow'd ;
Their hands a thousand wonders wrought,
Which bore the signature of God.

With gladsome hearts they spread the news
Of pardon through a Saviour's blood ;
And to a num'rous seeking crowd
Mark'd out the path to his abode.

The pow'rs of earth and hell in vain
Against the Sacred Word combine ;
Thy providence through ev'ry age
Securely guards the work divine.

Thee, its great Author, source of light,
Thee, its Preserver, we adore ;
And humbly ask a ray from thee,
Its hidden wonders to explore.

Adams' Geography and Atlas,

A New and Popular Work,

Published & for sale by Lincoln & Edmands.

Price 1,50—with col. At. 1,62.

From numerous recommendations of this work, we present the following.

Pr Ward, (Va.) June 20, 1819

Dear Sir,

I have given Adams' Geography a careful perusal, and am happy to have it in my power to say, that it very far exceeds any work of the kind that has hitherto come under my observation. I was so much pleased to have it in my power to recommend so valuable a school book to students in geography, that in order to introduce it into more general use, I took the liberty of putting it into the hands of the Rev. Mr. Lyle, an eminent judge of such a work who is in the constant habit of teaching geography. that I might obtain his recommendation also.

Mr. Lyle gives me liberty to state in his behalf, that it is so far superior to any other work of the kind hitherto seen by him that so soon as he can arrange the classes of his school for its reception, and procure sufficient number of copies, he will introduce it into his school. If these candid observations are calculated in your opinion to give this valuable stranger a more general introduction, as well as more welcome reception in the schools and families in your neighbourhood, make use of them for the purpose. Yours, T. A. STEPHENSON
